Rule Amendments and New Products

Securities Borrowing and Lending

- SEC has recently approved PSE's updated guidelines for MSLA clearance and the proposed streamlining of the process for applying institutions. Updates include PSE acting as a one-stop-shop for all SBL registrations, removing the need for separate SEC and BIR approvals for each and every MSLA.
- PSE is awaiting approval of SEC on the revised PSE Rules on SBL. The proposal simplifies the operational requirements for foreign institutions to participate in the domestic SBL market.

Minimum Public Ownership

- PSE released for public comment its proposed revisions to the Amended Rule on MPO. Key changes include the adoption of a tiered MPO framework for IPO applicants based on MCap, revised post-listing MPO requirements, the possibility of lower MPO thresholds for exceptionally large issuers (subject to SEC approval), and updated reportorial and compliance requirements for companies that fall below the prescribed public float.
- PSE is awaiting SEC approval of the proposed amendments submitted on May 25, 2026.

One Share, One Lot

- Reduction of the board lot table to allow investors greater access by enabling them to buy single lots based on the market price of a stock.
- PSE is awaiting SEC approval of the proposed Board Lot amendments, targeted for implementation in Q4 2026 alongside the new trading engine.

Initial Listing Through Preferred Shares Offering

- PSE released for public comment the second exposure draft of the proposed amendments to the Rule on Initial Listing through Preferred Shares Offering. The proposed amendments would reduce the minimum preferred shares offering from P1 billion to P100 million and the minimum number of investors from 1,000 to 100, making it easier for companies, particularly SMEs, to raise capital.
- The proposal also allows the direct listing of preferred shares, subject to a requirement to distribute at least P50 million worth of shares to at least 100 investors within one year of listing, providing issuers with greater flexibility in accessing the capital market.
- PSE is awaiting SEC approval of the proposed amendments submitted on June 25, 2026.

Market Making

- PSE recently released for public comments its proposed amendments to its Market Making Rules to include a framework for GPDRs. This may be expanded later on to cover individual stocks and other exchange traded products.

ETF Rule Amendments

- PSE recently released for public comments its proposed amendments to its ETF rules to encourage issuance of more ETF products (e.g., allow trust-type and actively managed ETFs; enable funds to track foreign securities and alternative assets in regulated OTC markets).

Negotiated Trades

- PSE released for public comment its proposed rules on Negotiated Trades. The proposal aims to allow Negotiated Trades as a variant of its existing block sale framework. This will allow trading participants and investors to execute and report smaller, pre-arranged transactions on commercial terms agreed upon by the parties, enhancing transparency and price discovery.
- The public comment period will run until July 7, 2026.

GPDRs

- GPDR is a peso-denominated instrument that represent economic, but not voting, interest in foreign-listed securities, with an option to convert to the underlying shares.
- PSE's GPDR regulations are in the final stages of development. PSE is awaiting SEC approval of the revised rules submitted on June 24, with approval and publication targeted within the quarter.

Derivatives

- PSE is developing the Philippine Derivatives market, starting with Index Futures which will be based on the PSEi.
- PSE released an early exposure draft to select institutions with derivatives expertise to gather their initial comments. The Exchange is also targeting the release of a Request for Information (RFI) to identified technology vendors early this month and is exploring third-party consultancy support covering both the regulatory/legal and operational/technical aspects of a derivatives market.

Structured Warrants

- A structured warrant is a contract under which a person has an actual, contingent or prospective right to buy/sell a specified quantity of underlying assets at a set price on or before a future date; or receive a cash settlement based on the underlying instrument's price fluctuations, calculated per contract terms.
- PSE is aligning its draft rules with the SEC's and gathering feedback from potential issuers.
